

Share your lockdown art with us

We know that one thing that has kept people going during lockdown is art.

For some people that is drawing or painting.

Other people have made videos or dance.

We know that this December, the way we celebrate and see our family and friends might be quite different.

This can make us feel unsure and lonely.

To help keep people feeling connected during December we want to share the art you have created with everyone else.

So during November we are asking you to send your art to us.

We will put it all together and share it, showing examples of your art every day through December

You can send us photos of your drawings and paintings.

You can send us a link to your videos, songs, music and dance.

Tell us a bit about you – your name, the town or city you live in and why doing art has helped you in lockdown.

You can send things to us by email
