Inclusion North News

Inclusion North will share an important news story and tell you about their own work here every two weeks.

The voice of young people

On 13th April, Inclusion North's Advisory Council met and one of the things we talked about was the voice of young people.

At Inclusion North we have got a big plan that says what we will do over the next 3 years.

One of the things we are going to do is to support young people with a learning disability and autistic young people to have a voice in their local communities.

Another thing we are going to do is to make sure young people have a say in the way Inclusion North is run.

Our Advisory Council came together to share their ideas on how we do this.

We are going to start by finding out what opportunities young people already have to speak up and to influence what happens in their communities.

We will invite groups who are already doing this to come together so we can all learn from each other.

We will look at what we can share from our leadership courses to support young people to build their skills and confidence.

In the news this week

What would you do if you won £200 million on the Lottery?

A man in France won that amount in Euros this week and he decided to use it to set up a charity to help save the planet.

Inclusion North's Stop Climate Change Group was very happy to hear this. We are busy co-producing some training and resources to help everyone understand climate change and what we can do to stop it.
