Inclusion North News

Inclusion North will share an important news story and tell you about their own work here every two weeks.

Stop People Dying Too Young

On 30th November 2023, the latest LeDeR report was published. LeDeR is the NHS work about learning from the lives and deaths of people with a learning disability and autistic people (LeDeR)

This is the first year that the deaths of autistic people have been reviewed as part of the LeDeR programme.

The report shows that

- People with a learning disability are still at risk of dying much younger than other people

- Almost half of the people with a learning disability who died in 2022 might still be alive if they had got different care. Their deaths were avoidable.

- Not enough has been done to make sure that the deaths of autistic people are reported to the LeDeR programme.

- People with a learning disability from Black, Asian and ethnic minority backgrounds are still at risk of dying even younger.

To read the report, search on Google for 'King's College London LeDeR' There is an Easy Read version and a video version too.

Happy New Year from everyone at Inclusion North.

At Inclusion North we are looking forward to 2024 for lots of different reasons.

We will be launching our new podcast.

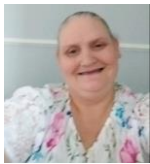

Our next Take The Lead level 1 course will be starting soon.

We will re-start our Involving Everyone project for people with Profound and Multiple Learning Disabilities in the North East.

We have two new Directors joining our Board. We are excited to start working with Denise and Diane who we know will be brilliant.

Thank you.

The Inclusion North team want to say a big thank you to all the wonderful people we worked with in 2023.

So many people were part of our work and helped to make it a success.
