

Learning Disability Week News Special

Celestino is a member of the Advisory Council for Inclusion North.

The Advisory Council's job is to help the Directors.

They do this by giving advice about the work Inclusion North does.

They give advice about important decisions the Directors have to make.

Celestino said

I want to help people who have disabilities like myself.

I want to share my experiences.

I enjoy meeting other members of the Advisory Council and making positive changes to improve lives for everyone else.
