

My Name is:

Alan Morrison

My Experience

- I am an autistic person.
- I was a young carer for several family members. I used to work in primary schools and trained to become a teacher.
- I worked with NHS England developing the Oliver McGowan Training.
- I run a community group in my local area for autistic adults and people that love them. We spend time in nature to improve our wellbeing.

I Enjoy.....

- Sport and exercise
- Travel
- Meeting interesting people.

My Skills and Knowledge

- I have a Sociology degree and a diploma in history.
- I home-educated my younger brother, supporting him to achieve several high-level qualifications (including a Masters).

What is important to me

- Education is very important to me.
- I value honesty, integrity and kindness.
- My work is also important to me.

What people say about me

- I am determined
- Passionate
- Empathetic
- Funny